

Hip Op-eration

Dance Academy

Website Terms

What are the Terms of Use for the Website?

By accessing and viewing the website you are accepting the following terms and conditions and are entering a legal agreement between yourself and the Hip Op-eration Dance Academy™ and Billie Jordan Enterprises. If you do not agree to this legally binding agreement, please do not view, access or use the website.

The terms and conditions of this agreement are as follow:

- You cannot copy, redistribute, sell, disassemble, reverse engineer, decompile or publish any material without the written authorisation of the Hip Op-eration Dance Academy™. This material includes images, photos, videos, logos, slogans, music, branding, visual identities, trademarks, policy documents, copy, written documents, graphics and other information used to communicate information, an idea, concept or value.
- Some material is available for copying and distribution, especially to Licensed Instructors who have limited use of materials and trademarks. This material is available in special 'password accessed' sites and have restrictions on it. In these situations and on these specific sites the use of material is strictly limited to the rights expressly granted by the Hip Op-eration Dance Academy™ and Billie Jordan Enterprises.

- Any breach of the Terms of Use of the website could result in a breach of copyright and legal action.